GTI Stainless Steel Control Panel

In response to popular demand, Altronic will be introducing two new control panel part numbers:

- GPN2011V (standard V engine control panel)
will replace the GPN2010V
- GPN2012V (standard V engine with stepper board)
will replace the GPN2212V

The GPN2011V and GPN2012V will utilize a stainless steel enclosure. The panel will contain the same insert and components, and wiring will be unchanged.

The dimensions will change only very slightly, but the mounting footprint will remain identical.

These new panels will be transitioned into service based on consumption of the current fiber glass enclosure, but in no case will the panels be mixed to fill any one order. Pricing will remain unchanged until the release of the 2011/2012 GTI Price List that will become effective July 1, 2011.
